Three Just Claims.

I. No department of science has witnessed greater progress during the past twenty-five years than that of obtaining correct information of the relative medicinal value of the various articles of the vegetable kingdom used for the relief of human suffering—their proper, effective combination, and the best method of securing and preserving their active principles for universal use. These searching investigations have shown that many articles which, at that time, were supposed to possess great curative effects are void of any medicinal power whatever. The supreme importance of purifying the blood has made this subject a field of active operations, the results of which have enabled us to present for your use and appreciation Hood's Sarsaparilla, an article which, by a combination peculiar to itself, is so vastly superior to any similar preparation that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and the entire human organism are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter of a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

II. No other blood-purifier is worthy of comparison with Hood's Sarsaparilla. By cures wholly unprecedented in the history of medicine, it has proven its right to the title of "The greatest blood-purifier ever discovered." We challenge any medicine to show an appreciation at home like that which has been poured upon Hood's Sarsaparilla. Such results only come from real merit, and the steadily increasing demand for this article unmistakably proves that people appreciate it. If you are suffering from scrofula, salt-rheum, or any obnoxious humor, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy to bring you relief.

III. A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains three times as much medicine as any other for the same money. If you are suffering from biliousness, dyspepsia, headache or exhaustion, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. To prove our claims:

1. Compare the clean, clear and beautiful appearance of Hood's Sarsaparilla with the muddy, gritty make-up of other preparations,

2. Compare the record of wonderful cures, as shown by the testimonials we publish.

3. Compare the dose and amount given in Hood's Sarsaparilla with that given by others. A dollar bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains an average of more than 100 doses.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A trial will convince the most sceptical of the real merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and enable all to test its wonderful power in restoring and invigorating the whole system, in renovating and enriching the blood, in giving an appetite and tone to the stomach, in eradicating and curing scrofula, scrofulous humor, scald-head, syphilitic affections, cancerous humor, ulcers, sores, tumors, ringworms, salt-rheum, boils, pimples and humors on the face, catarrh, headache, dizziness, faintness at the stomach, constipation, pains in the back, kidney complaint, female weakness, general debility, costiveness, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, lassitude and languor peculiar to spring and hot weather, loss of appetite and all diseases arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is designed to act upon the blood, and through that upon all the organs and tissues of the body. It has a specific action, also, upon the secretions and excretions and assists nature to expel from the system all humors, impure particles and effete matter through the lungs, liver, bowels, kidneys and skin. It effectually aids weak, impaired and debilitated organs, invigorates the nervous system, tones and strengthens the digestive organs, and imparts new life and energy to all the functions of the body. The peculiar point of this medicine is that it strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Price, $1.00 a bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

HOOD'S COOK BOOK No. 2

In presenting Hood's Cook Book No. 2 we bespeak for it the generous favor bestowed upon No. 1. We have spared neither trouble nor expense to secure good practical receipts. They cover quite a range of cooking, and with the original book make a valuable collection. We ask special attention to the candies.

Hood's Cook Book No. 1

Is a compilation of choice cooking receipts, contains sixty-four pages, printed on tinted paper, with red edges, and is handsomely bound. We have received a large number of letters, expatiating on the excellence and value of this book. One lady writes: "Such good things can be made at so low cost, that poor and rich can afford these delicacies." Another, "I cannot thank you enough for your book. It contains the best collection I ever saw." Another, "How you could get receipts that make such really nice things at so small cost is my greatest wonder." Until the present edition is exhausted, we will send Hood's Cook Book No. 1 (sixty-four pages) to any address, on receipt of a 3ct. stamp. We cannot promise beyond this edition.

Number 2, Free.

This contains entirely different receipts from the No. 1 book, and can be obtained free of any Druggist in New England. Druggists can obtain a limited number at any time, by writing us and naming the wholesale druggist in whose care we can send the books.

Clear Soup.

5 lbs. of clear beef cut from the lower part of the round, 5 qts. cold water; cut the beef into small pieces, add the water and let it come to a boil gradually; skim carefully and set where it will keep at the boiling point 8 or 10 hours; strain and set away to cool. In the morning skim off all the fat, pour the soup into a kettle, being careful to keep back the sediment. Put into the soup 1 onion, 1 stalk of celery, 2 sprigs of parsley, 2 sprigs of thyme, 2 of summer savory, 2 leaves of sage, 2 bay leaves, 12 pepper corns, 6 whole cloves; boil gently 20 minutes, strain through a napkin, first seasoning with salt and pepper to taste; tie the herbs together before putting into the soup. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood.

Vegetable Soup.

1 pint of vegetables, including turnip, carrot, onion and celery; cut into small pieces and boil one hour in water enough to cover. Add 1 quart of clear stock, a little more salt, boil a few minutes and serve. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now.

Pea Soup.

Pick over 1 pint of split peas; wash and soak over night; in the morning turn off the water and put them in the soup-pot; add 4 quarts of cold water, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of lean salt pork, a small piece of celery, onion and a little pepper; boil gently four or five hours, being careful that it does not burn; when cooked it will look smooth and rather mealy. Hood's Sarsaparilla renovates the system.

Mutton Soup.

Take the water that remains in the steamer after the mutton is cooked—see steamed leg of mutton—there should be about 3 quarts, add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup English split peas, nicely washed, 1 small onion, and cook gently three hours, adding a little more water if it cooks away much; before taking from the fire add salt and pepper to taste. Half a teaspoonful of Worcestershire Sauce gives a very nice flavor. Hood's Sarsaparilla eradicates scrofula.

We Regret

That limited space has forced us to condense many testimonials. We trust, however, that we have not shorn them of the elements that will convince our readers of the real merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla. We honestly believe a trial will satisfy every one that our remedy contains an unusual amount of medicinal power.

Purify the Blood.

The importance of a proper purification of the blood cannot be over-estimated. When this vital fluid is contaminated, diseases of various kinds present themselves, such as a feeling of general debility, weakness, want of appetite, dyspepsia, nervousness, constipation, headache and the more positive signs of blood impurities, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Cancerous Humor, Scald Head, Boils, Scrofulous Humor, Pain in the Bones, &c. Just here we wish to ask attention to Hood's Sarsaparilla and the wonderful record it has made in purifying the blood of hundreds of sufferers and restoring them to health. We tell you the truth of this remarkable medicine and believe it the best combination possible to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood.

"I have never found anything that hit my wants as Hood's Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." Respectfully yours, J. P. Thompson, Register of Deeds, Middlesex County, Lowell, Mass.

A Big Thing.

"Mr. Whitman, Druggist on Main St., informs us that since the first of August, he has disposed of five gross of Hood's Sarsaparilla and that it has the largest sale of any medicine in the market. It is also by far the most popular, and in all his experience there never came to his knowledge a single complaint in regard to its curative effects, but its praises are on the lips of everybody who uses it. The cause of this is undoubtedly the merit of a superior article, for Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co., are gentlemen who would feel unpardonable, were they to offer for sale an Invest one dollar in Hood's Sarsaparilla; you'll not regret it.

Potato Soup.

Take 10 small potatoes, boil and mash; to a quart of milk add $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. of butter, pepper and salt to taste; boil, then thicken with a tablespoonful of flour, flavor with celery; watch carefully that it does not get too thick. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best spring medicine.

Mock Bisque Soup.

Stew a can of tomatoes and strain, add a pinch of soda to remove acidity; in another saucepan boil 3 pints of milk thickened with a tablespoonful of corn starch, previously mixed with a little cold milk; add a lump of butter size of an egg, salt and pepper to taste; mix with tomatoes, let all come to a boil and serve. To cure biliousness take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Fried Bread for Soup.

Cut bread into little squares about $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch thick; fry in butter, turning the pieces so that every side will be browned. Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the system.

Fish Chowder.

Take either a cod or a haddock, weighing about 4 lbs., skin it, cut in small pieces and wash in cold water; take a scant quarter of a pound of salt pork, cut into small pieces and fry brown in the kettle in which the chowder is to be made; for a fish weighing 4 lbs., pare and slice 5 medium sized potatoes and 1 small onion; place a layer of potato and onion in the kettle, then a layer of fish, dredge in a little salt, pepper and flour; keep putting in alternate layers of potatoes, fish and the seasoning until all is used; add hot water enough to cover; cover tight and boil gently thirty minutes; add a pint of milk and 6 crackers split and dipped in cold water, and cook ten minutes longer. To sharpen the appetite take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Clam Chowder.

Wash the clams thoroughly, cover them with boiling water and let them stand ten minutes; when they can be easily opened, take them from the shell, cut off the black heads and put the bodies in a clean dish; for a peck of clams use 6 large potatoes, article in any respect different from that they claim it to be."—Nashua (N. H.) Telegraph.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is a carefully prepared extract of the best remedies of the vegetable kingdom known to medical science as Alteratives, Blood-Purifiers, Diuretics and Tonics, such as Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Stillingia, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, Mandrake, Wild Cherry Bark and other selected roots, barks and herbs. We assure everyone that no article entering into the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla can possibly do any harm, if taken according to our published directions. Each dollar bottle contains one hundred (average) doses. Probably never in the history of proprietary medicines has any article met success at home equal to that which has been poured upon Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why, such has been the success of this article, that nearly every family in whole neighborhoods have been taking it at the same time. Every week brings new evidence of the wonderful curative properties of this medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Price $1.00. Sold by druggists.

Spring Medicine

Is a necessity, because being "housed up" through the winter, breathing the impurities in the atmosphere of rooms heated by wood or coal and contaminated by the gases they throw off, the blood being the receptacle of these impurities, its vitality is so reduced that it is impossible to withstand the additional debilitating influence of warm weather; hence that spring feeling of languor, lassitude, and that low state of the system peculiar to the spring months; all of which can be positively overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A gentleman who has been suffering from the debility and languor peculiar to this season, says "Hood's Sarsaparilla is putting new life right into me. I have gained ten pounds since I began to take it." Has taken two bottles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla works wonders in blood.

peeled and sliced thin, and half an onion cut in small pieces. Cut a quarter of a pound of pork into small pieces and fry brown; put the potatoes and onion into the kettle with the pork; with a tablespoonful of salt, a little pepper and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of flour shaken over them; strain over this 4 qts. of the water in which the clams were scalded and boil fifteen minutes; now add the clams and 6 crackers split, and cook ten minutes longer. Hood's Sarsaparilla creates an appetite.

Hollandaise Sauce.

Half a teacupful of butter, the juice of half a lemon, the yolks of two eggs, a speck of Cayenne pepper, half a cupful of boiling water, half a teaspoonful of salt; beat the butter to a cream, add the yolks of eggs one by one, then the the lemon juice, pepper and salt, beating all thoroughly; place the bowl in which is the mixture in a saucepan of boiling water; beat with an egg-beater until it begins to thicken, which will be about a minute, then add the boiling water, beating all the time; stir until it begins to thicken like soft custard, stir a few minutes after taking from the fire; be careful not to cook it too long. This is very nice with baked fish.—Miss Parloa. Cure Salt Rheum, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Scalloped Oysters.

Butter an oval dish, put in a layer of oysters, and dredge in a little salt, pepper and butter, then a layer of rolled cracker; pour over this a few spoonfuls of milk, just enough to moisten the cracker, then a layer of oysters with salt, pepper and butter; another of cracker, with a little more milk, and so on until the dish is full; before putting into the oven pour a little more milk over the top; bake about half an hour. Diphtheritic convalescents should take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Oyster Roast.

Put one quart of oysters in a basin with their own liquor and let them boil three or four minutes; season with a little salt, pepper and a heaping spoonful of butter. Serve on buttered toast. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

An alderman of this city says of Hood's Sarsaparilla, "It is the strongest Sarsaparilla I ever saw."

The Season.

Why does everybody take a spring medicine? For three good reasons, viz: I.—Because one bottle of a blood-purifier taken at this season will do more good than two at any other. II.—Because the blood is in a more impure condition than at any other season. III.—Because the system is so weakened by this impure state of the blood that it has not sufficient vitality to withstand the debilitating effects of spring weather. Hence, by common consent, people seek relief in medicine. The combination of Hood's Sarsaparilla commends it to our judgment as a good spring medicine and blood purifier. Such things as Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, &c., compounded by competent druggists like Messrs. Hood & Co., warrant us in suggesting that all in need of a medicine of this kind give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.—Boston Herald.

"I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla one of the best medicines for early spring, when the blood is in a low condition and needs cleansing. I have been benefited by its use and have recommended it to my friends." I remain yours truly, W. H. Curtis, Ticket Agent, B. & M. R. R. Haverhill, Mass., January 5, 1881.

"Wake 'em Up."

Meredith Village, N. H., Jan. 8, 1881. Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sirs—Last year I was all used up and tried various things without benefit. Dr. Mason suggested I try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was meeting quite a sale, and doing sick people good. I took a bottle home, and I declare I never saw anything beat the way it took hold of me and lifted me up. I took several bottles and it did me more good than all the medicine I ever used before. It sharpened my appetite, gave me strength and renewed my lease of life. If people want a medicine to go all through 'em, and Everybody likes Hood's Sarsaparilla. Try it.

Steamed Oysters.

Leave a covered dish where it will heat, wash and drain the oysters, put them in a shallow tin and place it in the steamer, cover and leave it over boiling water until the oysters are puffed and curled. They may be dressed at table when eaten, or butter, salt and pepper may be added in the kitchen when served in the heated dish. Hood's Sarsaparilla enriches the blood.

Broiled Oysters.

Select good sized oysters, drain off the liquor, then roll in fine cracker crumbs, place on the broiler and cook over a bright fire; when brown take off, add to each a little butter; serve hot. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the stomach.

Roast Beef.

An onion sliced and put on top of a roast while cooking gives a nice flavor. Remove the onion before serving. Hood's Sarsaparilla restores the system.

Steamed Leg of Mutton.

Steam a leg of mutton until tender, then place in a roasting-pan, salt and dredge well with flour and set in a hot oven until nicely browned; the water that remains in the bottom of the steamer may be used for soup. See mutton soup. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia.

Baked Ham.

Take a medium-sized ham and soak twenty-four hours in cold water; wipe and scrape clean; make rather a stiff paste of rye meal and water, cover the ham entirely with the paste and bake in a moderate oven six hours. This is much nicer than boiled ham. Diphtheritic poison in the blood neutralized by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Apple Fritters.

Beat to a froth two eggs, and stir into this half a pint of milk, one teaspoonful of salt, two cups of flour; pare and core wake 'em up, tell them to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Yours, Freeman N. Bixby.

Biliousness.

A bitter taste, breath offensive, tongue coated, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. This condition, commonly termed biliousness, undoubtedly occurs oftener in the spring than at any other season. If this condition is allowed to continue unheeded, serious consequences may follow. By prompt action and mild means a fever may be avoided, or the sowing of seed for a premature death may be prevented. Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the best anti-bilious remedies of the vegetable kingdom, and in such proportion as to derive the full medicinal effects with the least disturbance to the whole system.

In fact this preparation is so well balanced in its actions upon the alimentary canal, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach, the bowels and the circulation of the blood, that it brings about a healthy action of the entire human organism, that can hardly be credited by those who have not seen the remarkable results that have followed its use. If the Sarsaparilla does not prove sufficiently laxative, take a few doses of Hood's Vegetable Pills. It is well in all cases of biliousness to take these pills in connection with the Sarsaparilla for the first ten days. That dull, sleepy, sick feeling can be wholly overcome by the use of these remedies. Will you give them a trial and be yourself again?

Price one dollar, or six bottles for five dollars. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

* * * * I am subject to severe bilious attacks. Last Spring I used Hood's Sarsaparilla and was much benefited by it.
* * * * I think it a very excellent medicine, and cheerfully recommend it for biliousness and all impurities of the blood. Yours truly, Mrs. J. W. Clement, Franklin, N. H.

Sick Headache.

"Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been nice tart apples, cut in slices, dip them in the batter, being sure to have the apple well covered, and fry in boiling lard a delicate brown; sprinkle with sugar or dissolve any kind of jelly in a little hot water and pour over the fritters. Hood's Sarsaparilla rouses the appetite when others fail.

Dressing for Sandwiches.

One-half lb. of nice butter, two tablespoonfuls of mixed mustard, three tablespoonfuls of salad oil, a little red or white pepper, a little salt, yolk of one egg; rub the butter to a cream, add the other ingredients and mix thoroughly, set away to cool; spread the bread with this mixture and put in the ham, chopped fine. Cheap—One hundred doses Hood's Sarsaparilla one dollar.

Chicken Croquettes.

One pound of finely chopped cooked chicken; season with $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of pepper, $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful of salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful of butter; mix with this 1 egg and nearly half a pint of cream, a little lemon juice and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of onion juice; have the board lightly sprinkled with fine cracker crumbs and roll the croquettes until they are shaped in the form of little cylinders; when they are all shaped, beat the eggs light and cover the croquettes with it; now have the board thickly covered with cracker crumbs and roll the egg-covered croquettes in these; fry in a croquette basket in boiling fat until a light brown. Instead of cream, chicken stock may be used; veal, mutton, lamb and turkey may be used. Pleasant to take—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Lyonnaise Potatoes.

One pint of cold boiled potatoes cut into small pieces, season with salt and pepper; one spoonful of butter, one slice of onion cut very fine, one teaspoonful chopped parsley; add parsley to potatoes, fry onion brown in the butter, then add potatoes and fry; use fork to turn them instead of knife. A beautiful preparation, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches." Yours truly, Homer B. Nash, Pittsfield, Mass.

"We feel that we are doing the public a favor in calling their attention particularly to Hood's Sarsaparilla. This is not a patent medicine, but is a proprietary article possessing real curative properties, and its effects upon the Blood are very positive. Spring Debility, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and all troubles caused by impure blood readily yield to this excellent medicine. We think those who give it a trial for that 'out of sorts' feeling from which so many suffer and is peculiar to this season, will be quite satisfied with the results."—Springfield Republican.

Diphtheria.

We cannot speak too strongly of the importance of securing the services of the best physician at your command whenever the symptoms of this disease show themselves. Promptness may save the life of the patient. The horrible prostration and the powerless exhaustion which cling to the convalescent, are overcome by the wonderful restoring and invigorating properties of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which vitalizes and enriches the blood, neutralizes and eradicates the poisoned matter from it, giving to the sufferer an appetite and the life and vigor of robust health. We honestly believe that every person recovering from Diphtheria would add great stability to their health if they would take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and thus purify their blood from the killing poison which this terrible disease always leaves with its victim.

We refer by permission to Mr. J. K. Smith, Lowell, Mass., Mrs. B. M. Prescott, Franklin, N. H., Mrs. E. F. Metcalf, Winchester, Mass., and many others.

Hood's Sarsaparilla prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Price one dollar a bottle, or six for five dollars.

Muffins.

One pint of milk, piece of butter size of an egg, one-half cup of yeast, two eggs, and flour enough to make a stiff batter; put the milk on to boil and put the butter into it, when the milk is nearly cool add the eggs beaten, the yeast and flour; let it rise six hours; bake in muffin rings. A reliable medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Rice Bread.

Mix well together one pint of well-boiled rice (one pint after it is cooked), one-half pint of flour, the yolks of six eggs, beat the whites to a stiff froth; two tablespoonfuls butter, one pint milk, salt, mix well together and add the whites of eggs last. Bake in shallow tins in a hot oven. No mud and grit in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hominy Corn Pone.

Two teacups of boiled small hominy (sometimes called grits), while hot stir in a large spoonful of butter; add four eggs and one pint of milk, one-half pint yellow corn meal; the batter should be as thick as a rich boiled custard, if thicker add a little more milk. Bake in a hot oven. Avoid syrups and sweets and take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Saratoga Corn Cake.

Four eggs, one-half lb. of sugar, mixed together with a wire beater; melt one-fourth lb. of butter and add to it; one qt. of milk, one-half oz. of baking soda (dissolved in the milk) and a little salt; add it all to the first mixture, stir thoroughly, then add one lb. of white corn meal, one lb. of flour, one oz. of cream of tartar mixed with the flour before adding to the other ingredients. Bake in a moderate oven. A carefully prepared concentrated extract—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mother's Brown Bread.

Three pints of corn meal, one pint of rye meal, one cup of molasses, two cups of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one quart of warm water, one teaspoonful of salt. Bake three hours in a moderate oven. A combination peculiar to itself—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mills and Stores.

It will be observed that those persons employed in mills and stores, and excluded from the light of the sun, breathing an atmosphere not always pure, are particularly subject to a pale, waxy, blanched, bloodless countenance, and often suffer from extreme weariness, irregular state of the bowels, general debility, mental depression, loss of sleep and want of appetite which would be largely relieved by a life of "out-door" exercise; but this being out of the question, the next best thing is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which supplies to the blood and to all the functions of the body a degree of vital force which has not been produced by any other medicine. We write with a degree of positive assurance which is warranted by a large observation of actual facts that fully justify this statement. This accounts in part for the great and growing popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla among the merchants, the clerks and the operatives in the mills of our city. A physician once said to us—"If you could bottle country air and rest, your fortune would be assured." Of course that would be impossible, but we have the next thing to it in Hood's Sarsaparilla, a remedy that restores and renovates every part of the system, vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood, gives tone and vigor to the stomach, and imparts new life and energy to all the functions of the body. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Price $1, or 6 bottles for $5.

A New Departure.

"One good result of the hard times a few years ago, was the bringing into life an article in proprietary medicine, which gave to every purchaser a full equivalent for his money. The rule of this class of medicines is from 10 to 25 doses for $1, the best only reaching 40. Messrs. Hood & Co took a new departure and in the article now so well and favorably known as Hood's Sarsaparilla, they gave the unprecedented quantity of 100 doses for $1. These facts commend this remedy to the consideration of the sick, also of the well, for they are liable to be sick."—Boston Weekly Journal.

An Alderman says Hood's Sarsaparilla is the strongest.

Creamy Sauce.

One-half cup of butter, one cup of powdered sugar, four tablespoonfuls of cream or milk, four tablespoonfuls of wine, or in place of wine, one teaspoonful of vanilla and three additional teaspoonfuls of milk or cream; beat the butter to a cream, add sugar gradually, then wine gradually and milk gradually. Place the bowl in which the sauce has been made in a basin of boiling water; stir a few minutes until it looks smooth and it is ready to serve. [See Sweet Sauce.]—Miss Parloa. Hood's Sarsaparilla—the strongest and best.

Sweet Sauce.

Stir to a cream, one cup of butter with two of sugar; pour into the butter and sugar a teacup of boiling water, beat an egg light, and mix it gradually with the other ingredients before they become hot; mix half a teaspoonful of flour in a little cold water, free from lumps, stir it into the sauce and beat the whole constantly until hot enough to thicken; add nutmeg. This is proper for all boiled puddings, especially berry, and also baked berry puddings. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong.

Hunter's Pudding.

1 lb. raisins, 1 lb. currants, 1 lb. suet, 1 lb. bread crumbs, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. moist sugar, 8 eggs, 1 tablespoonful flour, $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. citron, 1 glass brandy, 10 drops essence of almonds, $\frac{1}{2}$ nutmeg, mace and cloves; stone and chop the raisins, chop the suet very finely, and rub the bread until all the lumps are well broken; pound the spice to powder, cut the citron into thin shreds; mix all these ingredients well together, adding the sugar; beat the eggs to a strong froth, and as they are beaten, drop into them the essence of almonds; stir these into the dry ingredients, mix well and add the brandy; tie the pudding firmly into a buttered cloth, or put into a mould and boil or steam it 8 hours. To remove humors take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Apples in Rice.

Scoop out the cores and pare very neatly half a dozen good-sized apples,

Dyspepsia

Is occasioned by over-loading the stomach, eating indigestible food, or other causes too numerous to mention. It is manifested by a painful sense of fulness after eating, more or less distension from wind or gas, heartburn, nausea, vomiting, looseness of the bowels or constipation. Succeeding these symptoms are loss of appetite, coating of the tongue, an unpleasant taste, and nervous irritability, great languor and incapacity for exertion, accompanied in some cases by an almost irresistible drowsiness. If you are a sufferer, and have tried everything without benefit till your patience and faith are both exhausted, do not give up till you have given Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. It has brought happiness to many a sufferer and you cannot tell that it will not to you. It astonishes those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla to see what a toning effect it has upon the digestive apparatus. It is accomplished by the mildest and most direct action upon those parts which are exhausted by too much labor or too much abuse. It seems to throw protection around them for a time till its effects upon the general constitution can be realized, the whole system built up and a permanent cure is accomplished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Price one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars. Sold by druggists. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention.

I have suffered constantly from sick headache and dyspepsia. Before I had taken two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was much better. I am rarely troubled with headache now, and my food does not distress me as it did. Very truly yours, Helen J. Morrill, 133 Cross Street, Lowell, Mass.

* * * * Last December I used Hood's Sarsaparilla for dyspepsia and general prostration, and received very gratifying results. I consider it a valuable remedy boil them in thin clarified sugar, let them imbibe the sugar, and be careful to preserve their form; make a marmalade with some other apples, adding to it four oz. of rice, previously boiled in milk, with sugar and butter and the yolks of two or three eggs; put them into a dish for table; surround it with a border of rice and marmalade, and bake it. Worthy your confidence—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Birds' Nest Pudding.

Take eight or ten good flavored apples, pare and core, leaving them whole; place in a pudding-dish, fill the cores with sugar and a little grated nutmeg; then make a custard, allowing five eggs to a quart of milk, and sweeten to taste; pour this over the apples and bake about half an hour. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts upon the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Tapioca Cup Pudding.

This is very light and delicate for invalids. An even tablespoonful of tapioca, soaked for two hours in nearly a cup of new milk, stir into this the yolk of a fresh egg, a little sugar, a grain of salt, and bake it in a cup for 15 minutes. A little jelly may be eaten with it. Hood's Sarsaparilla invigorates the nerves.

Queen Pudding.

Soak 1 pint of bread-crumbs in 1 pint of milk, beat the yolks of 8 eggs and whites of 4 with 1 cupful of sugar, flavor with lemon, add 1 tablespoonful of butter and bake; beat the four whites of eggs that were left out, with a cupful of sugar, put it over the pudding as soon as baked, and cook it until the meringue is a light brown. We know Hood's Sarsaparilla is worth a trial.

Eve Pudding.

6 oz. finely-grated bread, 6 oz. currants, 6 oz. of sugar, 6 eggs, 6 apples, some lemon-peel and nutmeg; let it boil three hours. Serve with a nice sauce. Now is a good time to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Snow Pudding.

6 eggs, 6 tablespoonfuls corn starch, not very heaping, a little salt, one tablespoon for indigestion and attendant troubles. Yours truly, F. C. Churchill, firm of Carter & Churchill, Lebanon, N. H.

"Awful Distress."

Dear Sirs—I have been troubled with dyspepsia, indigestion and debility for years. Nothing reached my case till I found Hood's Sarsaparilla. Six bottles cured me. Now I can eat anything without that awful distress; have a tremendous appetite, and am free from that tired feeling. I cannot praise your Sarsaparilla too highly. Very truly yours, Park Patten, Gardiner, Me.

Catarrh.

On the strength of the following facts we feel justified in calling the attention of all who suffer from this disagreeable disease (whether it be a recent or chronic case) and suggest that they give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. It is only fair and reasonable to expect that it will do again what it has already done.

SMELL LOST. A city official met us on the street one day with the question, "Will Hood's Sarsaparilla cure catarrh?" He went on to say, "I know a case in a neighboring town of a lady who had catarrh so for years that it finally destroyed her sense of smell. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it restored her sense of smell."

COPIOUS DISCHARGE. A mother said to us a few days since, "Did you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla was a great remedy for catarrh. Why, my boy had it so I could hardly keep him in clean handkerchiefs. He has taken one bottle, and that terrible amount of discharge has stopped."

I have had catarrh for years. Last April the dropping in my throat became unusually troublesome, and I became somewhat alarmed, as it seemed to affect my right lung. I took two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I think it has cured me. My appetite, which was variable before, is first-rate now. Very truly yours, Charles H. Griffin, 69 Summer Street, Lowell, Mass.

spoonful of sugar and the juice of one lemon; dissolve the corn starch in a little cold water and turn 1 qt. of boiling water upon it; add the salt, sugar and juice of lemon, then add the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth and stir well; set in a basin of boiling water and scald ten minutes, turn into a mould and set away to harden; scald $1\frac{1}{2}$ pints of milk, add yolks of eggs beaten light, and sugar enough to make pretty sweet, and stir until it begins to thicken, add a little salt and flavor to taste; turn the snow out of the mould into a glass dish and pour the cream around it. Invest one dollar in Hood's Sarsaparilla; you'll not regret it.

Charlotte Russe.

Make a sponge cake of 3 eggs, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups of sugar, 2 cups of flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of cold water, 1 teaspoonful cream tartar, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of soda. Beat the sugar and eggs together, when light add the water, then the flour, in which the cream of tartar and soda are thoroughly mixed. Flavor with lemon. Bake in tin sheets in a quick oven. Line the Charlotte Russe mould with strips of the cake, leaving narrow spaces between the pieces of cake. Filling: Yolks of 5 eggs, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of sugar, 1 teaspoonful of vanilla, $\frac{1}{2}$ box of gelatine, $\frac{1}{3}$ cup of milk, 1 pint of cream. Soak the gelatine in a little cold water one or two hours; beat the yolks of eggs and sugar together, have the cream whipped to a stiff froth and set the dish into another dish of ice water; let the milk come to a boil, stir gelatine into this and pour the boiling mixture on eggs and sugar, place in a basin of ice water and stir until it begins to thicken, then add the whipped cream. Stir from the bottom until it is cool enough to just pour and turn into the mould. Hood's Sarsaparilla works wonders in the blood.

Strawberry Cream.

Pick the stalks from a box of strawberries, bruise them with a wooden spoon in a basin, with six ounces of fine sugar, rub this through a clean hair sieve, add a pint of whipped cream and two ounces of isinglass or gelatine, which Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Price $1, six for $5.

Neuralgia.

As most neuralgic pains are doubtless the result of a low condition of the system or a disordered state of the blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very excellent medicine to take at all times. If its use is persisted in till the system is built up, the blood purified, and its circulation restored to a healthy condition, the cause being removed, the disease will usually disappear. We cannot speak too enthusiastically of the wonderful power of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the cure of headache and other pains that are generally classed under the head of neuralgia, because so many cures have been reported to us and so much happiness expressed by those who have been permanently cured by using Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Writing of Neuralgia, Romberg says of the pain characteristic of it: "It seems as if pain were the prayer of the nerve for healthy blood." Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy for purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood and making it healthy. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Price one dollar a bottle, or six for five dollars.

Sore Mouth.

Gents—It gives me pleasure to write you that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me of a sore mouth, which had troubled me five years. I tried most everything before I heard of your Sarsaparilla. Yourstruly, Mrs. E. Buttrick, West Lynn, Mass.

Kidney Complaint.

"I have suffered from kidney complaint for fifteen years. Have tried everything. Have taken two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla; the backache, dizziness, pain in my chest and arms, and that feeling of intense weariness are all gone. I can eat anything. Feel just like work; in fact, like a new man. Can heartily recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla." Very truly yours, Jonathan J. Coburn, Dracut, Mass.

has been dissolved together, mix with the strained strawberries and put in the mould. Everybody likes Hood's Sarsaparilla—try it.

Celestine Cream.

Imbed a plain mould in some rough ice. Line the bottom and sides of the mould with fresh picked strawberries, taking care to put each in dissolved gelatine, in which there has been mixed some maraschino or other wine, when the interior of the mould is completely lined on the bottom and sides, fill the interior with the preceding cream. Only a penny a dose—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Frosting.

Soak 1 teaspoonful of gelatine in 1 tablespoonful of cold water half an hour, dissolve in 2 tablespoonfuls of hot water, add one cup of powdered sugar and stir until smooth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists.

Sponge Drops.

Beat to a froth 3 eggs and 1 teacup of sugar; stir into this one heaping coffee cup of flour, in which one teaspoonful of cream of tartar and half a teaspoonful of saleratus are thoroughly mixed. Flavor with lemon. Butter tin sheets with washed butter, and drop in teaspoonfuls about three inches apart. Bake instantly in a very quick oven. Watch closely as they will burn easily. Serve with ice cream. An Alderman says Hood's Sarsaparilla is the strongest.

Shrewsbury Cakes.

$\frac{1}{4}$ lb. butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. granulated sugar, 6 oz. flour, 1 teaspoonful of pounded cinnamon and mace, 1 egg. Beat the sugar and butter to a cream, then add the egg and spice; then stir in very gradually the flour; roll out the paste as thin as possible, and cut into cookies and bake. A teaspoonful of water will prevent the mixture sticking to the board. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now.

Cocoanut Cookies.

1 cup of sugar, $\frac{1}{3}$ cup of butter, 1 egg, 2 tablespoonfuls milk, 1 teaspoonful cream

Skill vs. Ignorance.

"As a perfect pharmaceutical preparation, we are told that Hood's Sarsaparilla surpasses any proprietary article upon the market. Even to our inexperienced eye we see positive indications of the truth of the foregoing. A glance at the article shows the scrupulous neatness and care with which the detail of its manufacture and putting up must be conducted. These points are of importance in any business, but in the manipulations of remedies for the relief of human suffering they become of supreme importance, and only such medicines are worthy public confidence."—Hartford Courant.

A gentleman of unquestionable reliability, gives us the following history of a case: "A lady was so reduced by disease that her blood had begun to turn to water, her feet and legs swelled, her tongue, mouth and throat were so raw that she could only take milk and water. In three days after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla her tongue, mouth and throat were nearly well. In a few months she gained from one hundred and twelve to one hundred and forty pounds. Her husband was opposed to her taking a proprietary medicine and it was smuggled to her under the name of 'the Doctor's medicine.' He has since recommended it."

Reader, do you think this a big story? We give you our word of honor that it is true. Knowing this, do you wonder at our confidence in the future of Hood's Sarsaparilla?

Another case—"A young man had a terrible sore on his neck, which used him up so thoroughly that his recovery was doubtful. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him."

of tartar, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful soda, a little salt, 1 cup of cocoanut. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood.

Mrs. Bly's Ginger Snaps.

1 cup of sugar, 1 cup of molasses, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter and lard, 1 teaspoonful salt, 2 teaspoonfuls ginger, 3 teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, 2 teaspoonfuls soda dissolved in $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of boiling water. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia.

Ladies' Fingers.

1 cup of sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of butter beaten together, 1 egg, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of milk, 1 pint of flour, 1 teaspoonful cream of tartar, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful soda, $1\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonfuls of vanilla. Cut in little strips, roll in sugar and bake in a quick oven. Use your hands to roll them, instead of a rolling pin. Hood's Sarsaparilla eradicates scrofula.

Almond Jumbles.

One pound of sugar, one-half pound of butter, one pound of almonds blanched and chopped fine, two eggs, flour enough to mix stiff. Roll thin, moisten the top of each one with the white of egg, and sprinkle with sugar. Bake quickly. Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine.

Macaroons.

Half a pound of sweet almonds, blanched and pounded fine, with one tablespoonful of rose water; whites of three eggs beaten to a stiff froth, stir in half a pound of powdered sugar and add the almonds. Drop the mixture with a spoon on buttered tin sheets, and bake in a cool oven. To cure biliousness take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Soft Gingerbread.

One egg, one cup of molasses, one-third cup of melted butter, one-half cup of milk, one teaspoonful of saleratus, one teaspoonful of ginger, two and one-half cups of flour, a little salt. Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the system.

Frankie's Composition Cake.

Scrofula.

Probably no form of disease is so generally distributed among our population as scrofula, hence a remedy that destroys the germs of this disease, and when settled, has the power to eradicate it, must be appreciated by the afflicted. The remarkable cures of children, of those of middle age, and of those late in life, as demonstrated by testimonials, prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla contains remedial agents that positively eradicate scrofula from the blood. The terrible sufferings of those afflicted by scrofulous sores cannot be understood by others, and the intensity of their gratitude to a remedy that cures them, may astonish a well person.

Dear Sirs—I think the cure of Mrs. Cole of scrofulous sores, by Hood's Sarsaparilla, a miracle. I could not believe it till I received a letter from her saying it was true. Her statement does not exaggerate her terrible sufferings. When she went to Westford we didn't think it possible for her to get well. I know several who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla with excellent results. With best wishes for the success of your good medicine, I am yours truly, Mrs. Sarah J. Davis, Manchester, N. H.

Cancer in the Stomach.

Dear Sirs—Six years ago last April my mother, Mrs. Benj. Clement, of Warner, N. H., gave up work, on account of cancer in the stomach. Food caused intense distress, and she took only enough nourishment to sustain life. We spared no expense to find relief. We paid out more than $300, without avail. At last we found Hood's Sarsaparilla. When she had taken one bottle she wrote me, "I can eat anything I desire without being distressed. It is surprising to see the good it has done me." These are the facts as short as I can give them. She has taken five bottles. Very truly yours, H. M. Clement, 127 Hildreth Street, Lowell, Mass. Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Price one dollar; six bottles, five dollars. Sold by druggists.

meg, a little cinnamon mixed with it, 1 wine glass of brandy, $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. of flour, $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. of fruit, $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. citron, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful soda. Beat the whites of the eggs to a froth, then put in the yolks and have that come to a froth. To sharpen the appetite take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Rich Coffee Cake.

Two cupfuls of butter, three of sugar, one of molasses, one of very strong coffee, one of cream or rich milk, the yolks of eight eggs, one pound each of raisins and currants, one-half pound each of citron and figs, and five cupfuls of browned flour after it is sifted. Put the flour in the oven, and watch well to keep from burning, until it is a nice brown; when cold, sift with it three teaspoonfuls of baking-powder and a little salt. Cut the figs in as long strips as you can; dredge all the fruit with flour; beat the cake up well, and bake in a salt-box, lined with nice thick brown paper, well-buttered, in a moderate oven, from four to five hours. A reliable medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Maine Plum Cake.

A pound each of butter, sugar and flour, ten eggs, a pound of raisins, two of currants, half a pound of citron, a teaspoonful of powdered clove, half as much mace, a nutmeg, the juice of a lemon and grated peel, half a teacup of good molasses. Beat butter to a cream, add sugar, beat the whites and yolks separately, and add them to butter and sugar; then by degrees put in two-thirds of the flour, in which one teaspoonful of cream of tartar is thoroughly mixed, then add one-half teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in a spoonful of boiling water; then add the fruit mixed with the flour that remains, stirring the cake fast a few minutes. Bake in one tin five hours in a moderate oven. Cure Salt Rheum by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Barnard Cake.

One cup of butter, 3 cups of sugar, $4\frac{1}{2}$ cups of flour, 4 eggs, 1 cup of sour milk; the juice and a little of the rind of a lemon, and one teaspoonful of saleratus. Diphtheritic convalescents should take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Wonderful

Power of Hood's Sarsaparilla in eradicating every form of scrofula has been so clearly and fully demonstrated that it leaves no shadow of doubt about its being the greatest medical discovery of this generation.

Scrofulous sores, or ulcers, covering large portions of the body, have yielded to the wonderful purifying effects of Hood's Sarsaparilla when all other means had totally failed to reach the disease.

Scrofulous ulceration of the eyelids, which is known to all as one of the most obstinate forms to cure, which this universal taint in the blood frequently assumes, has also repeatedly demonstrated the astonishing power of Hood's Sarsaparilla, in thoroughly eradicating this poisonous matter from the blood.

Scrofulous bunches on the neck and face are indications of a need of a thorough cleansing of the blood. Even if they do not give trouble at present, they may produce serious results, and no one can afford to pass the admonition without acting wisely.

No remedy has been so successful as Hood's Sarsaparilla, in reducing these bunches and thoroughly cleansing the whole system of the pernicious effects of this type of scrofula.

Ten Years.

"For ten years I suffered from scrofulous sores, which reduced me to a helpless condition. I cannot refrain from expressing my gratitude for the permanent cure Hood's Sarsaparilla effected in my case nearly two years ago, when my physicians gave me up. I have recommended your Sarsaparilla to more than a thousand cases, and my faith in its invincibility in curing scrofula has become absolute by the wonderful cures it has effected aside from my own. I trust you will not be slow in making the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla known everywhere, for it is a duty you owe to mankind. With best wishes, I remain very truly yours, Sarah C. Whittier, Warner, N. H."

Dayton Cake.

Five eggs, 5 cups of flour, 3 cups of sugar, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups of butter, 1 cup of water, 2 teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, 1 teaspoonful saleratus, a little salt. Flavor with lemon. Hood's Tooth Powder is in everybody's mouth, or should be.

French Loaf Cake.

Two and one-quarter cups of sugar, 5 cups of flour, 1 cup of milk, 3 eggs, a wine glass of brandy, 2 nutmegs, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of saleratus, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. raisins, $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. citron. Beat butter and sugar to a cream, add part of the flour, and the milk a little warm, then the beaten yolks, the remainder of the flour with the whites well beaten, spice, brandy, fruit and saleratus. Hood's Tooth Powder sweetens the breath.

White Fruit Cake.

One cup of butter, 2 cups of sugar, 1 cup of sweet milk, $2\frac{1}{2}$ cups of flour, whites of 7 eggs, 2 even teaspoonfuls of baking powder, 1 pound each of raisins, figs, dates and blanched almonds, $\frac{1}{4}$ pound of citron, cut all fine. Beat all well before adding fruit. Stir fruit in last, with a sifting of flour over it. Bake slowly. Hood's Tooth Powder hardens the gums.

Vanilla Ice Cream.

One quart of cream, 1 large cup of sugar, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonfuls of vanilla. A very good ice cream may be made with one pint of cream and one pint of milk. Hood's Tooth Powder whitens the teeth.

Strawberry Ice Cream.

One quart of strawberries, 1 pint of sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of milk, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pint of cream. Mash the berries and sugar together, add the cream and rub through a fine strainer into the freezer. Hood's Tooth Powder is only twenty-five cents.

Pineapple Sherbet.

One can of pineapple, a small pint of sugar, one pint of water, one tablespoonful of gelatine. Cut the hearts and eyes from the fruit, and chop it very fine, add the juice from the can, the water and

Hood's Tooth Powder

Is distinguished from all other preparations by its extraordinary efficacy in removing tartar, ensuring to the teeth a most beautiful pearly whiteness. Its corrective and astringent properties induce a healthy action of the gums, and a consequent firmness and brightness of color.

Scientific examinations prove Hood's Tooth Powder the most effectual in destroying the animal and vegetable parasitic animalculæ, which are the causes of decay, and are found to exist on nearly all teeth.

Hood's Tooth Powder is made of the best materials, critically selected for this special purpose, and is guaranteed not to contain any injurious ingredient, and if used regularly night and morning it will preserve the teeth and gums in a sound and ornamental state to old age.

No other preparation leaves in the mouth such a cool, pleasing sensation as Hood's Tooth Powder. It neutralizes all the offensive secretions of the mouth, sweetens the breath and gives to the gums a bright, healthy color.

What Our Dentists

Say of Hood's Tooth Powder: "We have made a critical examination of Hood's Saponaceous Tooth Powder, and can assure the public that it does not contain anything that can possibly injure the teeth, either mechanically or chemically. Very truly yours, G. A. Gerry, C. T. Clifford, W. H. Downs, B. Heald, A. T. Johnson, G. A. W. Vinal, E. M. Nelson."

Hood's Tooth Powder combines the following points: Large quantity, best quality, low price, a neat patent metallic cap, which avoids waste, retains its delightful fragrance and makes it convenient for traveling. Only 25 cents a bottle. Sold by druggists. Mammoth size, 50 cents.

sugar; add the gelatine, which has been soaking one or two hours in cold water enough to cover, and dissolved in half a cup of boiling water. Use Hood's Olive Ointment for burns.

Lemon Sherbet.

The juice of five lemons, one pint of sugar, one quart of water, one tablespoonful of gelatine. Put together like the pineapple. Try Hood's Olive Ointment for chapped lips and hands. It cures when others fail.

Chocolate Caramels.

Three lbs. brown sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. butter, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of chocolate scraped fine, one pint of cream or milk. Melt all these together with care, and boil twenty minutes or half an hour, stirring constantly. Just before taking off the fire, flavor with vanilla and add a small cup of granulated sugar. Pour into a buttered tin. When partly cool, mark in pieces about an inch square. Use Hood's Olive Ointment for hard and soft corns.

Caramels.

One cup of molasses, 2 of sugar. Boil ten minutes. Add 1 large tablespoonful flour, butter size of an egg, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. chocolate. Boil twenty minutes. Hood's Olive Ointment is the best family salve.

Taffy.

Two cups of brown sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of butter, 4 tablespoonfuls of molasses, 2 tablespoonfuls of water, 2 tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Boil fifteen minutes. Only twenty-five cents for a box of Hood's Olive Ointment.

Everton Toffee.

One lb. powdered loaf sugar, 1 teacupful water, $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. butter, 6 drops essence of lemon. Put the water and sugar in a brass pan on the stove. Beat the butter to a cream; when the sugar is dissolved add the butter, and keep stirring the mixture over the fire until it sets. Just before the toffee is done add the lemon. Use Hood's Olive Ointment for burns.

Cream Walnuts.

White of one egg; stir into it sufficient powdered sugar to make it stiff enough to handle, flavor with vanilla; dip the walnuts into a syrup made of two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one of water, boiled three or four minutes. Mould the cream with your fingers and place between the two halves of a walnut. Dates or Malaga grapes may be used. To make chocolate cream walnuts, stir two tablespoonfuls of melted chocolate into the cream. Hood's Olive Ointment is the best family salve.

Hood's Olive Ointment

Is made of carefully-selected barks, gums, choice olive oil and other ingredients particularly celebrated for their healing and soothing properties. We cannot speak too positively of its value as a family salve, in curing chapped lips and hands, hard and soft corns, ingrowing nails, boils, burns, sores, salt rheum or eczema, cuts, flesh-wounds, scrofulous sores, pimples, tetters, festers, cutaneous diseases, eruptions, sore nipples, broken breasts, bruises, inflammation, piles, chilblains, and for the hundred and one things for which a good family salve is constantly used. We do not offer it as a pile ointment, but it has cured multitudes of this distressing complaint when all other remedies failed, and these facts warrant us in recommending it to our patrons for this disease. These remarks are equally applicable to that annoying affliction, chilblains. Please remember that we say with great emphasis and truth that no other article approaches Hood's Olive Ointment in curative power. We know that the experience of all who use it will corroborate this statement and will cause all to wonder at the marvellous healing and soothing properties it combines. A lady writes, "You don't praise your Olive Ointment half enough." Another, "We couldn't keep house without it." Another, "It's the best thing to heal I ever saw." A trial captivates every one in its favor. Price 25 cents a box; five boxes, $1.00. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

Molasses Candy.

Two cups of molasses, 1 tablespoonful of sugar; stir occasionally while boiling; before taking from the fire add butter half the size of an egg, and one-third teaspoonful of soda. Pour into buttered tins and when cool enough pull it. To cure constipation, use Hood's Vegetable Pills.

Molasses Candy.

Two cups of sugar, 1 cup of molasses, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of water; after it begins to boil add $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful cream of tartar; cook in the usual way, but do not stir; before taking from the fire, add butter half the size of an egg. Do not butter your hands while pulling. To stir up the liver, take Hood's Vegetable Pills.

Vinegar Candy.

Two cups of sugar, one-half cup of water, four tablespoonfuls of vinegar; stir before putting on the stove, not after. Hood's Pills—the best family physic.

Cocoanut Drops.

One pound of cocoanut, 1 pound of powdered sugar, small quarter of a pound of flour, whites of six eggs. Bake in a quick oven. A cold is often annihilated by Hood's Pills.

Ice Cream Candy.

Two cups of granulated sugar, one-half cup of water, add one-fourth teaspoonful of cream tartar, dissolved in water, as soon as it boils. Boil about ten minutes; don't stir. When done it will be brittle if dropped in cold water; add butter half the size of an egg just before taking off the stove; pour into a buttered tin to cool, and pull it as hot as possible. Flavor while pulling, with vanilla, checkerberry or any extract to suit taste. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable.

Fig Candy.

One cup of sugar, one-third cup of water, one-fourth teaspoonful cream of tartar. Do not stir while boiling. Boil to amber color, stir in the cream of tartar just before taking from the fire. Wash the figs, open and lay in a tin pan and pour the candy over them. A fever is often warded off by Hood's Pills.

Peppermints.

Two cups of sugar, one-half cup of water; boil five minutes. Flavor to taste with peppermint; stir until thick, and drop on white paper, well-buttered. To cure constipation, use Hood's Vegetable Pills.

Hood's Vegetable Pills

Are a purely vegetable cathartic medicine—are made to meet a legitimate demand for a family physic that is perfectly safe—and can be relied upon to do their work thoroughly.

A fever is often warded off by the timely use of this efficient cathartic.

A cold, which might otherwise continue for days, is often annihilated in a single night by a dose of Hood's Vegetable Pills.

For constipation and costiveness Hood's Vegetable Pills cannot be excelled. The importance of keeping the bowels in a natural condition cannot be too highly regarded, and the sooner people realize this truth and put it in operation, the sooner shall we find the health of communities elevated to its normal condition.

As a dinner-pill they will be found all that can be desired. They stimulate the stomach, and by assisting digestion prevent the nausea and distress which so frequently occur after eating or drinking too heavily.

It is a wise custom to have a physic of some kind ready for immediate use. The necessity which so often compels all to resort to a medicine of this kind renders it the most important one in the medicine closet. Try Hood's Pills. Price only 25 cents; 5 boxes, $1.00. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

Caution. Avoid all pills containing calomel, mercury, or any mineral substance, as they are liable to do harm.

Rev. James P. Stone, of Dalton, N. H., after using Hood's Sarsaparilla, Olive Ointment and Vegetable Pills, writes: "Your preparations are all they profess to be. Mrs. S. says your Pills are the best she has ever known."

Salt-Rheum.

Eczema, commonly called Salt-Rheum, is a vesicular disease of the skin, characterized by watery blisters, smaller than those of herpes and larger than ordinary sudamina (a fine eruption of vesicles on the skin), such as are sometimes seen in the difficulty known as "prickly heat."

Eczema is often accompanied by intense itching, and is frequently transformed into a pustula, or scabbing disease. It is generally chronic. Its treatment is both local and general. Hood's Olive Ointment is an excellent application. Hood's Sarsaparilla, used in numerous extremely obstinate cases of Salt-Rheum, has by its great toning, alterative and purifying effects upon the system and the blood, produced the happiest results, and permanently cured those who had previously been great sufferers. We recommend them to your consideration and trial, confident by past experience that they will not disappoint your most sanguine expectations. Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price one dollar a bottle; six for five dollars. Hood's Olive Ointment, 25 cents a box.

Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co.: Three or four weeks ago I found one of your Cook Books; and your Sarsaparilla was recommended in such high terms that I have a desire to try it, also the Olive Ointment. I have succeeded in finding the Sarsaparilla, but not the Ointment, so I wish you to send me by mail a box. My son has a humor, and if it cures him you can have a testimonial that will be worth something. You may direct to him, Edgar F. Whitman. Yours truly, Adeline M. Whitman, Raynham, Mass., May 12th.

C. I. Hood & Co.: Gentlemen— * * * *
For seven years I have had ring-worm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores, as also was my head and face. I have had many doctors in the last seven years; none of them could cure me. One of them told me that I could never be cured. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton and found one of your Cook Books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen a great many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment, and I call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of this humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I am gratefully yours, Edgar F. Whitman, Raynham, Mass., Aug. 7th.

Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: Gentlemen—It gives me pleasure to say a word in regard to the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla and its curative powers. I suffered with salt-rheum eight years, and found no relief in the innumerable patent medicines I used, nor in the advice and medicines of numerous physicians whom I freely employed. I noticed in Hood's Cook Book cases similar to mine cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which inspired my confidence. I gave it a trial and it cured me. My son was afflicted with salt-rheum, also, and it cured him. These are the facts, and you can use them as you wish. Mrs. Carrie M. Higgins, Gloucester, Mass., January 1, 1881.

I sold Mrs. Higgins the Hood's Sarsaparilla referred to in her letter, and know the facts are as stated by her. I am pleased to state in addition to this that I have sold a large amount of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has given universal satisfaction. I recommend it as the best blood purifier. W. J. Maddocks, Apothecary, 107 Main Street, Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 3, 1881.

Gents—Some three months since I procured of Mr. C. A. Smith, our druggist, a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla for my son, who was at that time troubled with a scrofulous humor. He had several very ugly sores between the ankle and knee of his right leg, and other lesser ones on different parts of his body. He has taken only two bottles of your medicine, but the sores have disappeared, and he seems to be freed from his humor. This trial satisfied me of the worth of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I can heartily recommend its use to others, J. N. Ketchum,

THIS ENGRAVING IS ONE-FOURTH THE SIZE OF HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Lassitude and Languor, peculiar to spring and hot weather—Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Biliousness, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, Boils, Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaint, Female Weaknesses, Catarrh, Pimples, Humors of the Face, Ring-Worm, Scrofula, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Pain in the Bones, Syphilitic Affections, Ulcers, Sores, Tumors, Salt-Rheum, Scald-Head and all diseases arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla works upon the Kidneys, the Liver and the Bowels. It enters the circulation of the blood immediately, purifies, vitalizes and enriches this vital fluid; and reaching every part of the human system, it tones, invigorates, strengthens, and rejuvenates all the organs and tissues of the body. It is nature's great health-restorer, and is not equaled by any other medicine. Sold by Druggists. Price one dollar; six bottles, five dollars.
